Présentation

Description

Responsable du cours : Andrew McKeown

In this class we will be studying A Streetcar Named Desire (1947) by Tennessee Williams.

A PDF copy of the script will be given to students before class begins.

Classwork will focus on specific scenes and discuss questions of staging, performance, situation and character, and interpretations of the play arising from these.

We will also bring into our discussion extracts from Elia Kazan's famous screen version of the play from 1951.

Evaluation will be a written assignment at the end of the semester.
